

Policies for Pre-College Accreditation

Your successful participation in the PreCollege program at Tecnológico de Monterrey will provide you with the opportunity to obtain a microcertificate in Leadership (PreCollege Online) or a microcertificate in Business and Engineering (PreCollege On-site). Additionally, you will have the possibility to request accreditation for up to two Tec Weeks upon meeting the established requirements when starting your professional studies with us.

Throughout your academic program, you can accredit up to two Tec Weeks through formative experiences, seminars, or learning gate programs. If you choose to accredit one Tec Week while completing the PreCollege Program, you can only request accreditation for another Tec Week during your professional studies. If you decide to accredit two Tec Weeks, attending both the On-site and Online PreCollege programs, you cannot accredit any other Tec Week through any of these alternatives throughout all your professional studies with us.

The request for Tec Week through the PreCollege program includes the following aspects:

- Participation in the PreCollege program grants a microcertificate in Leadership (PreCollege Online) or a microcertificate in Business and Engineering (PreCollege On-site).
- This certificate is awarded regardless of the future decision to apply for accreditation.
